

BIOGRAPHY OF HENRY O. ARNOLD

Mr. Arnold's original film trilogy, "The Word Made Flesh," received two first place awards at the Houston International Film Festival and the Columbus International Film Festival. He co-wrote and produced the film "The Second Chance" starring Michael W. Smith distributed by Sony Entertainment. He wrote the screenplay for the first authorized film documentary on evangelist Billy Graham, "God's Ambassador." His has written 156 original episodes of the children's show "Backyard Time" produced and distributed by the United Methodist Publishing House. "Tilly," his stage play adaptation of Frank Peretti's story of the same title was published by Lillenas Publishing. He co-wrote and produced the documentary "Kabul-24" for Sea Bourne Pictures based on the story of the capture and escape of eight western aid workers by the Taliban. He is the narrator for the two CD recording of "Jesus in His Own Words," distributed by Total Content. Recently, he co-produced and wrote the screenplay for the documentary film "The Next Door" winner of the Portraits of Compassion national film contest awarded by the White House Faith-based Community Initiative Project.